mobility move combines future topics under one roof

Dear colleagues,

things are moving in Germany! This shows the increasing relevance of public transport in the debate on how we can reduce CO2 emissions from our mobility. Unfortunately, there are still many unanswered questions for transport companies when it comes to financing the whole thing: What happens to the 49-euro ticket? What support is available for the purchase of future technologies? Despite these challenging conditions, it is important that we as an industry stay on the ball and in dialogue. The „VDV Electric Bus Conference and Trade Fair“ in Berlin has been a central platform for this for many years.

In addition to focussing on electromobility, we have increasingly integrated related topics such as autonomous driving at recent events - based on the conviction that new drives only work as part of a holistic system approach. Further digitalisation topics such as ticketing will be added in the future. Experts from KONTIKI e. V. will be hosting their conference on this topic in 2024. We have created a new umbrella brand, „mobility move“, to provide a suitable framework for this wide range of topics.

Despite a greater variety of topics, the high density of information on e-mobility will remain. We will cater to both newcomers and experienced users and offer focussed presentations so that everyone can take something away for their own progress. For example, what do I need to do when I change my system? What's new in terms of long-term issues such as fire protection, conversion and further development of depots and workshops, charging and refuelling infrastructure, IT and networked management systems? In autonomous driving, the focus is on new vehicles, federal innovation funding programmes and IT systems for operations. In ticketing, the focus is on the Deutschlandticket, IT security and ensuring data quality.

In this programme, you will find an overview of what specifically moves us at „mobility move“ in 2024 and which expert presentations await you on the various themed stages. In addition, there will be 5,000 square metres of exhibition space where industry and service providers will showcase the solutions they offer for the mobility of today and tomorrow. There will be the usual close integration with the conference programme and plenty of time for networking. A new highlight is the „mobility move night“ on the evening before the conference as a get-together with plenty of space for professional and personal dialogue.

By public transport or car

Connection to the public transport is excellent: 250 meters to the S-Bahn station “Sonnenallee”. The M41 bus line with a stop right in front of the hotel provides a connection to the subway network, Potsdamer Platz and the main train station every 5 minutes during the day and every 10 minutes in the evening. With the “Grenzallee” on/off ramp, the next connection to City Highway 100 is in the immediate vicinity.
